Words from the Senior Class Vice President

Dearest 2013ers,

As the members of the boys' varsity football team raced across the field, my fellow classmates and I excitedly cheered for a win. Amidst the uncomfortable elbowing, the sea of maroon, and the blaring cheers of "Belmont, what is your profession?" I had a sudden pang of nostalgia. I realized this would be one of our last shared moments. In our last decade and a half in Belmont, we have had thousands of seemingly insignificant moments together: winning goals for our 2nd Soccer Team, dressing up as identical pumpkins for Halloween, intense games of kickball, awkwardly waltzing at middle school dances, and giggling in the back of the library. But in these moments, whether we realized it or not, we were supporting and shaping each other. You are all remarkable people and it has been a privilege to spend a large part of my life with you.

Something that has struck me as a unique strength of our class is our strive to take part in our community and show continual support for each other. Together we have produced and attended concerts, play productions, club meetings, games, tournaments, dances and after-school events. I am proud to be a part of such a dynamic community that constantly challenges and reinforces. It is my hope that in the future we continue to influence and strengthen each other.

Always remember that "in a gentle way, you can shake the world." Over these last four years, we have taken the initiative for things we care about in extraordinary ways, through community service projects, establishing clubs, and organizing school spirit events. Your combination of talents, interests, and opinions has helped us to accomplish many exceptional things for our school and community. Never stop asserting your strengths and being proactive, because we are about to enter a new period in our lives that holds the very great power of youth. Keep hold the drive to accomplish great things and to contribute to the world around you, for we are the leaders of tomorrow.

Congratulations -- we did it! Despite the many sleepless school nights, the aches from sports practices, and the dizzy weekend nights, we will all be leaving Belmont High School with bright futures and smiles on our faces. I hope you continue to seize every opportunity you have to learn and grow in a constantly changing world, wherever the road may take you. My best wishes to all of you! Thank you for the unforgettable and inspiring memories. I look forward to many more of them.

Good luck, WE ROCK!

Cheers,
Niamh

You Know You're a Senior When...

...you feel like notecards are personally out to get you.

...you do test corrections to bring your Psych grade up to a C.

...your dad has BHS attendance on speed dial.

...you fail an open notes quiz because you weren't in class to take the notes.

...you can't get through a full day of school without getting called out of at least one class.

...you take a nap every day.

...you feel accomplished just because you got off the couch.

...you go to Dunks more than you go to class.

..."If yes, explain why?"...changes answer to no.

...you don't remember the last time you had a conversation with an adult that didn't involve the word "college."

...'senioritis' has become a legitimate excuse.

...it's 7:35 and there are 4 people in your class.

...you know how many days until the last day of school, but not when your next test is.

...you don't even know where the library is anymore.

Laura Levitt

"To laugh often and much, to win the respect of intelligent people and the affection of children, to earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure the betrayal of false friends, to appreciate beauty, to find the best in others, to leave the world a bit better, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch...to know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived. This is to have succeeded." -

RAVI & VIJAY PATHAK

DEAR VIJAY & RAVI:

We are very proud of both of you. Now it's your time to go and make the world a better place for all. You have the foundation, begin building your legacy.

Let nothing come between you and remember this quote from Vivekananda:

THIS WORLD IS NOT FOR COWARDS

Do not fly. Look not for success or failure. Join yourself to the perfectly unselfish will and work on. Know that the mind which is born to succeed joins itself to a determined will and perseveres...Live in the midst of the battle of life. Anyone can keep calm in a cave or when asleep. Stand in the whirl and madness of action and reach for the Centre. If you have found the Centre, you cannot be moved.

LOVE YOU,
MOM & DAD

Georgia

Georgia, we are completely and utterly crazy about you and we are so very proud of the person you have become.

You are wonderful and beautiful and kind and smart (and modest enough to squirm as you read these words).

Soon you'll be off to school and beyond and we'll be left to hear of your tales from afar. And, no matter how far you travel and no matter which dreams you pursue, we will wait right here to hear of all your adventures, your ups and downs and your pursuit of life.

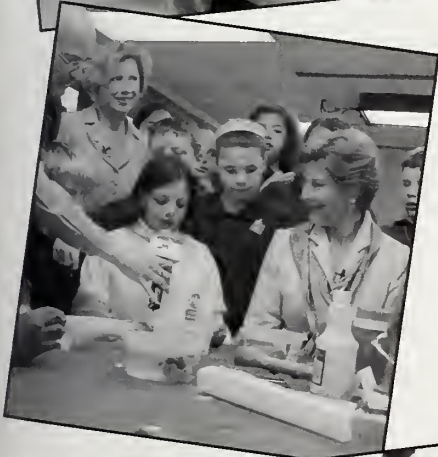

You're a little crazy. And we like that.

You're caring and warm. And we like that too.

You're you! And we love that!

Congratulations,

Mom, Dad and Damian,
Sawyer & Rivka

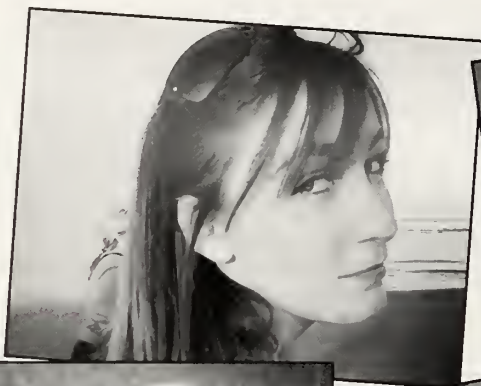

Virginia Hardy

Listen carefully and you will hear,
What's politely known as the Hardy cheer.
And if were judged as exceedingly loud,
Its only because were doggone proud!

Have a GREAT summer!!!
